BUTLER FEARS SUBTERRANEAN CHANNEL AT DAM

INITIAL ISSUES OF GOOD ROAD BONDS WILL BE PLACED ON BLOCK MAY 24

Highway Department Making Arrangements for First Marketing of Paper

INQUIRIES RECEIVED FROM MANY BIDDERS

Legality Will Be Passed On By Internationally Known
Attorneys

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 24—

The first issue of state highway improvement bonds authorized by the voters January 30 will be $3,000,000 and bids for this amount will be opened by the state highway department at the capital at 12 o'clock noon, May 24. This announcement was made by Governor Kilby, chairman of the bond commission, Saturday afternoon with the further announcement that bids had been invited through advertisements placed in Birmingham, Mobile, Montgomery and New York.

Although a rate of interest as high as six per cent is authorized by the constitutional amendment, the first issue will bear a rate of four and one-half per cent. The bonds will be issued in denominations of $1000 or multiples to suit the purchasers and interest will be paid semi-annually on June 1 and December 1 of each year.

The bonds will be retired at the rate of one-half million dollars a year beginning June 1, 1930, and running to June 1, 1935. Principal and interest will be paid by the state in New York and the bonds will be issued in the form of coupon bonds but may be registered by the purchasers with the state treasury.

Each bid for the issue must be accompanied by a certified check for two per cent of the par value of the bonds bid for which will be forfeited to the state if the bidder fails to carry out the provisions of his bid.
When the bonds are sold temporary certificates will be issued which will be redeemed when the bonds have been delivered.

The legality of all bonds offered under the amendment will be approved by Storey, Thorndike, Palmer and Dodge of Boston, internationally known bond attorneys.

In the advertisement inviting bids for the issue, the state made the following declaration regarding the state's financial condition: "The total assessed valuation of the state of Alabama based on 60 per cent of its tax value is $952,602,224. The total bonded indebtedness of the state is $8-557,000; including this issue, it will total $11,557,000 or less than one and one-quarter per cent of its assessed valuation. These bonds are forever exempt from all taxes."

Members of the state bond commission which will pass upon the bids are Governor Kilby, Harwell G. Davis, attorney general, and John A. Rogers, chairman of the state highway commission.

A large number of inquiries have already been received regarding the first issue and several large companies of the east have requested that they be advised of the date of the first issue in order that they may prepare their bids.

Windshield Hit By Stray Bullet

A peculiar near accident happened to Chas. B. Calloway and family of Hartselle while on a motor trip to this city recently. At a point near the lilly pond a bullet from a rifle or pistol penetrated the windshield of his car shattering the glass over the occupants. Fortunately no one was hurt. The report of the gun was not heard by any occupant of the car. Mr.
Calloway is not of the opinion that any one was gunning for him, but it was just a stray shot from a target rifle perhaps in the hand of some boy out for sport.

A NEW AIR JITNEY FOR EVERY HOME

Lawrence Sperry, of New York, has invented an "air jitney" which drinks at your favorite gas station, can travel 100 miles an hour, costs less than a Ford, and can land in the street that fronts your lawn. It weighs 500 pounds, and "parks" in your private garage.

Revival Opens At First Baptist Church With Large Attendance First Day

The revival now in progress at the First Baptist church of Albany began most auspiciously Sunday morning.
The attendance was large, and the pastor, Rev. R. F. Stuckey, preached a strong sermon on "God's Challenge to Men". The preacher chose as his text Malachi 3-10. "Bring ye, all the tithes into the store house . . . and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of Hosts, if I will not open up the windows of heaven and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it."

In speaking of the two tasks set by his church for this week, Rev. Stuckey said that they were, first to secure the salvation of human souls, and second to complete the payment of the church quota for this year due to the $75-000,000 fund.

E. P. Johnson, a deacon in this church, named the following committee, whose duty it shall be to secure all money due by next Sunday when the entire amount will be placed on the table at the morning service: Herman Sparkman, C. L. Buck, Geo. W.
Bibby, T. W. Mitchell, L. E. Toon, E. M. Lee, J. W. McCall, Walter Field, George Norwood, and E. P. Johnson.

A pledge service was held at the close of the sermon, the congregation coming forward and pledging that they would fulfill their vows to God, as made in the past.

With Miss Trueman Stuckey as accompanist, the large choir led the congregation in a number of hymns immediately after and preceding the sermon.

Rev. Stuckey said in opening his sermon, that at the time of the text Israel had fallen into the ways of neighboring heathen nations, that national conditions were bad spiritually and financially, that the task of rebuilding the temple and the walls of Jerusalem had been completed, following the 70 years of Babylonian slavery.

"God's people had become infected with the disease of sin; and God calls through Malachi, the Prophet, for a reapportionment and a revival of true religion. The people knew the law demanding a tenth of their substance for the Lord, and they are asked to bring in the tithes, to cease to rob God, and then see if He would not provide a blessing, by opening the windows of heaven, so great that it could not be contained."

"Just as we have pests to destroy our crops today, Israel had something of the same kind. But God said He would rebuke the destroyers, if His people would do their part. His challenge was based on the condition that the people do their duty. He expected wholehearted co-operation among his people. A divided heart is a weak heart. Divided interests fail. A divided people is a weak people. A divided religion is a weak religion."

"A double minded man is unstable in all his ways. You do your part, and I will do mine, is what the Lord said to Israel. He says the same to us today. If you want a blessing bring into God's store house what He demands."

Keep Back Nothing
The speaker spoke earnestly on the danger of keeping anything away from God, or holding back love, service, talent or money. "I am laying down duty as I see it; bring into God's store house all that belongs to Him, and see if He will not open the windows of heaven. None have to listen, is He not to wish to, but I am going to preach the doctrine of the text because I want to."

Taking up the history of men like Noah, Abraham, Moses, Gideon, Elijah, the disciples and St. Paul, the preacher spoke at length, showing that in every instance where they were true to God's claims upon them, He poured out a great blessing upon them and their people.

The speaker said the congregation was familiar with the law of tithing, and how God required the firstlings of the flock, and lambs without spot or blemish, and that just as He demanded the best in the past, He demands the best we have and the best we can be in our time.

Sample Announces For Solicitorship

The Daily carries the announcement today of John R. Sample, of Hartselle, advertising the fact that he is a candidate for the office of circuit solicitor of the eighth judicial circuit. Mr.
Sample was born and reared in Morgan county on a farm. At the schools of the county he received his education. Completing his education he took up the study of law, graduating with honors and began the practice of his profession in the county where he has continuously resided. During the years he has grown in stature and ability as a lawyer, adding to his clientele from year to year. He is recognized as a lawyer of ability, possitive, firm, preparing his cases with a care which marks him, his friends claim, peculiarly fitted for the responsible duties of solicitor to which he aspires. His friends point with pride to the fact that in the race for this office some six years ago he only lacked 59 votes of landing the office he sought. Six years his friends claim has added to his qualification and they are predicting he will make a strong race in the present campaign.

Reader Case Set For Regular Term

The J. R. Reader case, which was to be heard on Friday, May 5th, jury for same was to have been drawn today, was postponed to the regular June term of court by Judge R. C. Brickell, Judge Brickell commenting on the continuance of the case said: "It would involve the county in useless expenditure of money; it would call the farmers away from their work of the farm which is already late, and the only farming weather we have had for the past 30 days is now with us. In view of these facts, and the further fact that the regular term of court will be held in June, about a month off, I deem it best to all parties concerned to postpone the case until the regular June term."

MILITARY POLICY OF FRENCH CABINET IS DEFENDED WARMLY IN PREMIER'S SPEECH

Openly Threatens To Withdraw From the Economic Parley At Genoa

STANDING FIRMLY BY DECISIONS OF CANNES

Veiled Threat Made Of "Solo" March Upon The Rhine
District

(International News Service.)

BARLEUC, France, April 24.— Premier Poincare, speaking to his constituents here today, openly threatened withdrawal of the French delegation from the Genoa conference.

"Our remaining at Genoa, he declared, 'certainly is conditional only on no concessions being made either to Germany or to Russia. We stand firmly by the decisions of the Cannes conference'."

The French premier recently accused by inference in statements by Premier Lloyd George, of England, is seeking to wreck the conference, launched his program for France in emphatic terms.

He made the misunderstandings and crisis of the past few days in the Genoa conference the basis for a new defense of France's military policy.

Following a veiled threat of another French "solo" march upon the Rhine, Poincare said: "What would have happened if we had disarmed too quickly is understandable today, after the imprudence of Raparro. The facts of the present situation demonstrates that the French cabinet was justified in insisting upon the 18 months military plan."

"France must remain united," Poincare declared, "working toward a climax of patriotic fervor of the sort that moved the Gallic temperament."

"When I called the nation to arms in August, 1914, the danger threatening us was less obscure and insidious than it is today."

"The realities appear less clear today as through an enveloping haze but the danger is unchanged."

W. P. FOGARTY DIES IN CINCINNATI, O.

Following an illness of several weeks, W. P. Fogarty died this morning at Cincinnati, Ohio. He was a native of Louisville, Ky., and resided here about 20 years, holding an important position with the American Oak Leather company. He was a Knight Templar and a prominent factor in Masonic circles, being Past Eminent Commander of De Molay No.
14. Mr. Fogarty was one of the heirs of the great Mooney estate, of which he was a trustee, and a man of unusual intellectual strength.

This city has probably never had a more deservedly popular man and he was sought for his kindness and unselfish interest.

At the time of his death Mr. Fogarty was assistant secretary of the American Oak Leather company, with headquarters at Cincinnati. He is survived by his cousin, Mrs. W. R.
Smith, who with Mr. Smith will attend the funeral, by one sister, Mrs. Mary Lyman, of Cincinnati, and other relatives.

Hartselle Wins Over A. A. Club

Hartselle easily defeated the Albany athletic club here Saturday afternoon 21 to 6 in the opening game of the baseball season on the local field. The home club showed their lack of practice and errors were numerous, while Hartselle hitters had their batting togs on and pounded the ball for innumerable extra base swats.

IN SHABBYTOWN

Walt Mason.

In Shabbytown they do not care if things look seedy everywhere. They have no pep, they've lost their grip, they simply sit around and yip, in envy's tones, of Glossville, the shining village on the hill. Oh, Shabbytown is punk and gray, and it shows symptoms of decay, and strangers passing thru remark, "It surely dates back to the Ark." "CLEAN UP AND PAINT UP!" makes men frown along the streets of Shabbytown. A can of paint makes no appeal to this bum village, down at heel; the people think there is no sense in going to so much expense; so things are always going down, and getting worse in Shabbytown. It always gives my soul a thrill when I arrive in Glossville. The town looks like a blooming bride; the people take a hearty pride in making things look clean and bright, and in their labors take delight.
They're lavish with the helpful paint, selecting colors chaste and quaint, and decorating every shack; thus, warding off decay's attack, and making all the buildings look like buildings read of in a book. And strangers, when they see the town, say, "Here we'll come and settle down, and raise us nineteen kids apiece, and live and die as slick as grease." This happy burg goes right ahead, while Shabbytown is prone and dead.

CLEAN UP AND PAINT UP

April 23-29.

FORMER PASTOR IS SPEAKER HERE SUNDAY MORNING

Rev. A. H. Manley, of Asheville, N.
C., former pastor of the Westside Presbyterian church, preached to appreciative congregations there yesterday morning and evening. Rev.
Manley, owing to his advanced age, has retired from active pastoral work but is still active in the ministry, and retains his full mental vigor and spiritual vision, judging from his discourses of yesterday. At the close of his morning sermon in which Christ was set forth as chief cornerstone, the head of the church, and the central figure around whom mankind must rally if civilization ever wins over anarchy, Rev. Manley said that he believed, now that Jerusalem was in the hands of progressive nations, in that ancient capital of religion there should be set up a university, in which all the nations should participate and educate all the young men of every nation, looking toward a career as an international diplomat or statesman.
"If we had our world leaders educated at the same place and under Christian influences," declared the aged minister, "war would be banished fore-ever, and that the world would go forward by leaps and bounds."

Morning Sermon

Ephesians 2:20—"Jesus Christ Himself being the chief cornerstone," was the text used by Rev. Manley in his Sunday morning sermon. The verse in St. Matthew, "The stone the builders hath rejected hath become the head of the corner," was also quoted by the preacher. It was declared that cornerstones when laid often were made the repositories of valuable effects, and from this the speaker proceeded to show that in Christ, the chief cornerstone, reposed all that was holy and precious to the human heart.
"In Him is our hope of salvation; and in Him is our salvation. For there is none other name given under heaven whereby men shall be saved." In Him is our justification, our sanctification, our resurrection, and our spiritual life."

Jethro's Advice to Moses

The speaker urged a strict performance of duty as regards public service. He said that Moses received some excellent advice from Jethro, his father-in-law, of the land of Midian as to wise public activities. It was explained how the old chief of the Desert told Moses to decentralize his power and men over other men and thereby relieving Moses of the whole burden, and at the same time developing leadership. "Jethro told Moses to select able men; God fearing men; men who hated covetousness; and men who loved the truth."

It was in this connection that the preacher advocated what he called "a political law school at Jerusalem" for training world statesmen.

Last night Rev. Manley preached to the same congregation as in the morning, although the number present was considerably increased. His theme last night was "The Final Triumph of Christ's Kingdom."

GIVES EXPLANATION OF GUARANTEES IN ENGSTRUM'S OFFER FOR SHOALS PLANT

Former Maryland Senator Admits That the Danger Not Immediate

DECLARES ENGINEERS
WORRY ABOUT CREVICES

Representative Of Engstrom Grilled By Members of the Committee

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 24—Fear that subterranean channels might cause destruction of Wilson Dam, the key to the government's Muscle Shoals, Ala., waterpower project, was voiced today by former Senator Martion Butler, of North Carolina, before the senate agriculture committee.

Butler, in advocating acceptance of the leasing offer of Frederick Engstrom, declared provisions had been made in his contract, compelling the government to rebuild the dam in the event it was destroyed by a subterranean washout.

Replying to inquiries, Butler said the danger was not imminent but was "possible at all times owing to the limestone structure of the rock beneath the dam."

"There is some worry among even the army engineers regarding hidden crevices beneath Wilson Dam," said Butler. "In a limestone country there is always fear of subterranean washouts when full pressure is brought against the dam."

"Numerous crevices have been filled with cement in an effort to stop all leaks."

"Despite these precautions small channels may open beneath the dam and once full pressure is thrown against the structure, the leak may enlarge and result in a washout."

"Is the danger very serious," asked Senator Harrison, Democrat of Mississippi.

"It is not serious if found in time and corrected, but there is always some danger," replied Butler.

"That is why we place this provision in the Engstrom contract, which would compel the government to rebuild all parts of the structure damaged by such an accident."

Butler also declared that the Muscle Shoals plant, if operated under a government subsidy would be able to undersell the Chilean market from which most of the American fertiliz-ing nitrates now are obtained.

"We could sell our nitrate at from 35 to 40 a ton and at the latter price would be making a profit," Butler continued, "all profits going into the United States treasury until construction is paid for. After that the company receives 25 per cent profit on nitrates."

Stewart Signs With Big Cotton Pool

The Farm Bureau cotton marketing sign-up campaign continues unabated in the county, meeting still being held in different parts of the county. S. E.
Stewart of Hartselle, one of the large-est land holders in Morgan and Lawrence counties has just signed up a contract to sell in the pool. From the lands of Mr. Stewart there is annually produced around 800 bales of cotton.
Should this be a normal year of cotton production he will be probably the largest cotton grower signing the cotton pool contract in the state.

made by the attorneys for Harry Bolton. The case will be carried to the

WE FAVOR ACCEPTANCE OF HENRY FORD'S BID FOR MUSCLE SHOALS.

MINISTERS CO-AUTHORS OF BOOK; TWO WELL KNOWN IN TWIN CITIES.

A recent issue of The Nashville Banner, contained an editorial commending the new book just out on Muscle Shoals, as sponsored by the Sheffield Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club of the same city. The work of getting up the publication stands to the credit of three prominent ministers of the Tri-Cities, Rev. Herman L. Turner, Rev. J. Raymond Stuckey and Rev. Geo. Stanley Frazer. The two first named authors are well known in the Twin Cities. Rev. Stuckey, is the son of Rev. R. F. Stuckey and a frequent visitor here. Rev. Herman L. Turner, with his family has always lived here until his call a few years ago to become Pastor of the Columbia Avenue Presbyterian church of Sheffield. The Banner editorial is herewith reproduced and is entitled "Muscle Shoals Book".

A live and attractive addition to the information about Muscle Shoals and its tremendous possibilities has recently been offered the public by the publication of a booklet containing facts, views, maps and general information regarding the entire district. The work in question is sponsored by two such reliable organizations as the Rotary Club and the Chamber of Commerce of Sheffield, Ala., and the actual work is said to have been done very largely by the pastors of the various churches of the same city.

Even so much as a brief survey of the Muscle Shoals book will likely be sufficient to convince the reader that the pastors of Sheffield have a great deal of initiative for the welfare of their city and section and a great deal of real journalistic ability in addition to their undoubted efficiency and interest in the cause of religion. Considered merely from the standpoint of one who is interested in learning facts about the big power project, the book is essentially worth while, and it has also quite a lot of real beauty between its covers.

The booklet in question was published in answer to a demand that came from all sections of the United States as the public attention was challenged more and more on Muscle Shoals by the offer of Henry Ford and others to take over the tremendous power project and run it. It is the purpose of the publishers to continue the publication of the book and the first issue has been spread by the thousands all over the length and breadth of the nation.

Nashville has been in the fight for the continuation of the Muscle Shoals project ever since its inception and The Banner has been glad to give publicity to the efforts that have been made and thus do its part in what it considers an entirely worthy movement. On the same general basis The Banner feels it entirely proper to commend the initiative and good sense displayed by its Alabama neighbors in the Tri-Cities in making it possible for the nation as a whole to become acquainted with the potentialities for progress that Muscle Shoals so eminently offers.

COTTON MARKETING HAS MANY ADVANTAGES.

The farmers of Alabama are at last waking up to their needs for a better, more efficient, and more profitable market for their great money crop—cotton. It is practical and in the hands of farmers.

It is our earnest belief that every cotton grower not only in this county but throughout the entire South should become part of this great movement which insures the replacing of an unorganized, inefficient, careless, and irresponsible marketing system by an efficient system of orderly marketing which insures more money for cotton, and incidentally, greater business for all.

In this movement we can see far more than money. It would never be worth while as enterprising citizens and heads of families to devote our time to organizing or forming marketing pools merely for financial gains. We admit we are interested in securing more money for cotton but beyond money we are desirous of making our community life more agreeable to ourselves, our families, our friends and future generations. A reasonable profit on cotton will enable us to provide better homes, better roads, better schools, better churches and better everything which goes to make life more pleasant and more worth while.

THE GREAT QUESTION.

The great question for each one to consider is: Am I doing my best in the best place I can find to carry out my life's work in the most acceptable manner. Many fail to accord to this proposition its just deserts. You cannot hope to develop the greatest efficiency and accomplish the most good if in a place not to your talents or liking. One must like his business before that business can be brought to its highest state of efficiency. Enthusiasm is that unseen power expressed in the accomplishment of that which one has in hand. Enthusiasm is the silent force which impels yourself and carries others with you. It is the most convincing argument in the world today when seeking to impress oneself on others; enthusiasm. It has changed the day for many a seemingly defeat into victory; it has inspired on the field of battle and caused the tide to turn in victory; it has spurred when the load was heavy and the cause flagging; someone had enthusiasm when these things be. Without it there is nothing accomplished absolutely. Enthusiasm in the pulpit; enthusiasm in the home; enthusiasm in the work shop; enthusiasm in the school room; enthusiasm in all the walks of life by the doers of the things of life will impress itself so indelibly upon others that they too will see the value and be impelled to fall in line.

Practically every feature of the reconstruction period has been gone over since the great war. The business depression has been met and passed. Values which soared in war time have come down practically to a pre-war price with the exception of a few articles comparatively. Business alignment has been made to meet conditions which should exist in peace times. It is understood that some commodities are still higher than they should be, kept so on account of exorbitant freight rates. This correction should be made, there is no reasonable reason why rates should be so high as now. The fact that the regulation bodies of the state have no legal authority to regulate interstate rates, therein lies the crux of the argument. Congress alone has the power and the authority it is said. Another fault wherein states rights are not allowed; the power alone in such instances being vested in federal government control. How long such conditions will last is problematical. That it is wrong and unjust goes without argument.

Much concern and money is being expended by the national government in the effort to conserve the forests of the country. The wanton extravagance which has characterized the slaughter of fine bodies of timber, leaving much of it to rot in the forests of the country is almost a crime against the future civilization. In the Old World so scarce has the timbered districts become, the governments of that part of the world have passed edicts which make it imperative that a tree must be planted for every one used. This plan if energetically pursued would keep the number the same, but much time would elapse between the time of planting and when ready for use in the arts of manufacture. We might well begin to think seriously of timber in our own country. During the last 10 years many fine bodies of timber have been cut and used with no thought of replacing or conserving what was left.

With great anticipations of pleasure the boy of the farm used to look forward to laying by time. There was usually a stated time to bring the farm work to a close. July 4th of each year was a favorite time to quit or get done work. Now we work well up to the fruiting time of plants and have found it pays. Especially is this so since the advent of the boll weevil in the cotton fields. The last furrow run at that period of the year was the signal to take the plows to the shed, do up the gears and place in gear house and take to the goods and the fields not to work, but to hunt and fish and roam around. It was a great time, an epoch in the life of every boy which will not soon be forgotten.

Just a few years ago it was necessary in making a trip from the southern part of this county to the county seat at Decatur, in vehicle or horse back to spend practically the entire day on the road. Now it is made in 30 minutes, round trip in an hour with all ease. Thanks to the better roads which are now obtaining all over the county. When the new projects are launched and finished, practically the entire year, through bad and good weather as well there will be travelable roads in every section, joining other main roads on which travel will at all times be fast and pleasant.

English peas are now being gathered from the gardens of the county. Very little behind the shipped ones this year. The fact that the English pea can be planted in cold weather and the cold does not affect it unless in bloom, it is easy to have early garden peas. A freeze does not hurt this hardy garden annual as before stated unless in bloom. Then if freeze occurs it is ruined.

It takes a hitherto unknown cleaning and pressing establishment to properly clean and press a divorce suit.

A good job for everybody—Clean Up and Paint Up.

Banish dust, dirt, disease—and live longer.

The home was attractively decorated with cut flowers. The bride was becomingly attired in white satin, the bridesmaid, Miss Dessie Morris, wearing white organdie. Mr. Otis Wiggins was best man.

After the ceremony a delightful supper was served the wedding party and guests, Mrs. Cardin assisting Mrs. Black in serving.

Kyle, Anniston; corresponding secretary, Miss Maude Buck, Bessemer; recording secretary, Mrs. Carl Klings, Mobile; treasurer, Mrs. W. L. Grubb, Birmingham; librarian, Mrs. George Cryer, Anniston; editor, Miss Margaret Thomas, Selma, historian, Mrs. J. S. Prout, Demopolis, auditor, Mrs. Lewis Lasseter, Montgomery; parliamentarian, Mrs. G. M. Lewis, Dothan.

The district presidents are as follows: First, Mrs. Louis A. Neill, Albany; second, Mrs. Maud Buck, Bessemer; third, Mrs. Houston Davis, Birmingham; fourth, Mrs. W. W. Horton, Selma; fifth, Mrs. F. B. Neely, Montgomery; sixth, Mrs. Dave Inzer, Troy; seventh, Mrs. R. E. McElveen, Mobile; eighth, Mrs. Francis Allen, Gadsden.

GUESTS AT PLANTATION.

Dr. and Mrs. Andrew Cameron, Mrs. Madeline Kelly and Mrs. John B. Simpson of Birmingham and Mr. Lucian Thompson of Memphis, are the expected guests this week of Col. and Mrs. T. T. Ashford at their country home, The Plantation, in South Limestone.

Fishing will be the principal attraction on the bill of entertainment, while baked trout, smothered bass, roast bream, fried perch and catmint stew will decorate the daily bill of fare in a la plantation style. These are all anglers in the Isaac Walton class, hence a safe conclusion that the Ashford's private lake will need restocking when they leave.

MRS. SAUNDERS IS SUBJECT OF SKETCH

Mrs. Elizabeth Saunders, formerly a widely beloved local resident, now in charge of Brittling's cafe in Birmingham, is the subject of an interesting sketch by Dolly Dalrymple in The Birmingham Age-Herald this morning. The story is the twenty-second of a series of stories about successful business women of the Magic City.

Mrs. Saunders gained some of her early experience in the hotel business here and the appreciation now being shown of her ability in Birmingham is the source of much gratification on the part of her many Twin City friends.

Dolly says:

LADY—A woman of good breeding, education and refinement of mind. This is the definition contained in Mr. Noah Webster's big unabridged dictionary, of which Mark Twain's miner declared 'twas a good book, but it lacked a plot.

It is also the definition of Mrs. Elizabeth Saunders who presides over the culinary department at Brittling's No. 2 and who is only too seldom seen by the large clientele of this popular rendezvous. Yet it is to her skill in buying and her keen judgment in arranging menus that the public is indebted for the excellent food served there.

The word "lady" and "aristocrat" and "elegant" and "refined" run riot in your mind as you talk with Mrs. Saunders, her handsome figure and gracious manner qualifying the attributes that I have laid at her door.

Incidentally, I may say the word "lady," which I adore, even in spite of the common vernacular, "woman," being substituted so largely for it in modern times, is a definition which fits not only Mrs. Saunders, but many of those clever, capable, hard-working, quick thinking, blue serged women in the business world of today who have proven themselves equal of earning between $5,000 and $10,000 a year.

Tomorrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Remble

This should prove to be a very active day, according to the stellar motions. The luminaries are in opposition, and Neptune and Mars are in sextile with the Moon, in testimony of activity and enterprise, with the faculties keyed to large, bold and new enterprises, although the mental faculties may be calm and discerning. It may not be considered a good day for some persons in the employment of others, as they may have difficulties in their positions or may suffer through their health. Those whose birthday it is may look for an active and eventful year, but not one of complete success. While there are some excellent prospects, they should guard the health and their positions, and be discreet in their conduct. A child born on this day may be disposed to be introspective, and given to worry unless carefully trained early in life to be cheerful, but will be enterprising and generally successful.

Conscienceless Grave Diggers.

A dead man in Burma always pays his fare across the mystic river of death with a small coin which he carries in his mouth. The curse that rests on grave-diggers as a class probably comes from the fact that most of the men of this trade have no scruples about digging the poor wretches up for their coins. It is believed that this causes the spirits of the disturbed ones to return to this world to suffer all the ills that the Burman imagination can conjure up for them.

HE HAD NEVER HAD A STOMACH

A Western mining engineer was being interviewed by a magazine writer. Though he had spent his life at it he criticised everything and refused to see anything interesting, hopeful or human in mining. Then the interviewer switched to the subject of health. The truth came out. The mining engineer had never had a stomach. He was tortured and soured by everything he ate.

When there is stomach trouble of this character, the cause is in the spine, as otherwise a change of diet, or a reduction in the amount of food would give relief. The Chiropractor by Chiropractic spinal adjustments of the vertebrae pressing upon spinal nerves to the stomach lifts the pressure and Nature restores normal digestive vigor. A good stomach makes an optimist.

HARTSELLE BUREAU OF

J. ADLAI WEST, Correspondent.

Leave items of general interest, including social, personals, current happenings, at Peoples Drug Company.

After over three years of building, the First Christian church is finally completed in every detail, and the opening or dedicatory services will be held there Sunday, April 30. At the evening service the congregation of the First Methodist church will worship with them.

Rev. Smith, pastor of the First Baptist church, will go to Montgomery soon to hold a series of meetings at the Second Baptist church of that city.

Rev. R. M. Howell, of the First Methodist church, preached a sermon Sunday evening to the young people. A large attendance was noted, the music being furnished by the Epworth League. The subject was handled in a most interesting way and held the attention of the gathering throughout.

John Kent, one of the oldest residents of the town, was stricken with paralysis Sunday morning.

The teachers of the grammar school who lived away from Hartselle have all gone to their respective homes.

A series of entertainments for the senior class of the Morgan county high school is planned for this week. Several social functions will be given in their honor. This is an annual custom among the students of this institution and is looked forward to with much pleasure from year to year.

Cotton planting with a vim was begun in this section Monday. All final preparations having been made the previous week to get the soil in preparation for the seed. There will be a normal crop of cotton planted in this section this season, much pains being taken to get the early maturing varieties and give the plant a good start by the liberal use of fertilizer.

A most interesting meeting was held at Rural Grove near town recently. The county agent, W. G. Johnson, and Mr. Kayser were present and explained the cotton pool marketing plan to the large number present, who voted their approval of the plan in no uncertain terms. The meeting was held in connection with the Rural Grove community club. At this time several members were signed up for the cotton plan as outlined by the visitors at the meeting, and it is stated that this was one of the most enthusiastic meetings held in the county along the same lines.

There is more inquiry for farm stock being noticed here now than for the three years past. There are several dealers in horse stock here and each report considerable inquiry for stock. This is the invariable sign that there is to be considerable cotton planted.

Due to the increased acreage of berries here this season many are now gathering the earliest varieties and are having no trouble in disposing of the product which is said to rival any in quality. The Klondyke and the Lady Thompson are the early varieties which are now getting ripe, the Aroma a somewhat later berry is scheduled to come in in about two weeks.

It is understood that the army will be rebuilt at an early date. Up to this time, however, there has been no move to get new quarters. The cavalry troop is without equipment, all of the equipment having been lost in the recent fire which destroyed the armory and its contents.

Hartselle played the American Legion baseball team at Albany Saturday in the opening game of the season. The Hartselle team won the game to the tune of 21 to 6. French for the locals and Jimmie Johnson for the Legion team facing each other on the mound. Gin Burleson for the local team did some fine stick work smashing out a home run the first time at bat, and repeating it again in short order. The Hartselle team has recently gotten some new material in their line up in the personage of Bennie Russell, pitcher, and Dunn at shortstop. They are putting in daily practice and are ready for games at home or abroad.

T. M. Jones, of Decatur, was here a short time Sunday. He was accompanied by T. M. Jones, Jr., and other members of his family.

Dr. A. Draper and wife, of Decatur, spent Sunday with Mrs. Draper's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roman Puckett.

R. T. Puckett has recently added greatly to the appearance of his residence on Main street by the addition of several improvements thereto. He is now having the entire residence repainted. When completed he will have one of the prettiest residences in town.

The chorus choir of the Methodist church is having rehearsals each week getting ready to put on some new music for the church. The chorus will be under the direction of Mrs. Lucia Lee.

BEING ORGANIZED

A junior fraternal organization, under the auspices of Decatur Chapter No. 88, Royal Arch Masons, not, however, identified directly with the Masonic order, is being perfected here. The order is open to membership of all boys from 16 to 21 years of age, inclusive.

The new order will teach "love of parents, reverence, patriotism, purity, courtesy, comradeship and fidelity," being styled "a De Molay for boys."

It is believed the organization will fill an acute need in the local community, as well as in other communities in which units are being formed.

Baptists Enjoy
Banquet Thursday

Male members of the Sunday school of the Central Baptist church will be the guests of the ladies of the school Thursday night at a banquet in the Malone garage, on the second floor. The banquet will be given by the ladies who were defeated in a recent membership contest in the school. All adult members of the school were extended a cordial invitation to attend the banquet.

Porcelain in Europe.

It was not until 1708 that a German chemist, Boettger, working for the elector of Saxony, discovered the true ingredients of porcelain, and in 1710 the Royal Saxon Porcelain manufactory at Meissen was founded.
